

SHABNAM IS THE NEW MAY QUEEN

The new May Queen of Haugh Shaw Primary School, Moorfield Street, Halifax, , Shabnam Mahmood, aged seven, [fourth left], with her attendants, (from the left), Rachel Wilford, six; Katherine Manley, six; rose attendant Amber Klievens, four; Lisa Collins, six; Jennifer Harvey, six; Adnab Mahmood, six, and Paul Harvey, four.

The school's May Queen is always the oldest top infant pupil with the four youngest top year infants as attendants. She was crowned by the oldest top infant boy, Adnab, and the youngest boy, Paul, carried the crown.

Headteacher, Mrs Liz Bates said it was part of the school's tradition to have a May Queen and this year the children were allowed to dress with an insect theme, with some children dressing as butterflies and spiders.

The children sang and gave a gymnastic display.
